SCINTILLATIONS.

An Interesting Jumble of News And Comment.

Versailles has adopted the high license plan.

The Louisville Legion will be mustered out at Ft. Thomas on February 20.

The Kentucky Inter-Collegiate oratorical contest will be held in Lexington, April 7th.

Judge Denny, of Lexington, wants to be one of the Commissioners to the Paris Exposition.

Mrs. Martha Martin, of Maysville, is one of the heirs to the $400,000 estate left by C. G. Hopkins, who died recently in Kansas city.

A great wave of suicidal mania seems to have swept over Louisville last week. Four persons took their own lives and one failed in the attempt.

J. W. Sparks and family were poisoned by eating bread which a new cook made from meal in which rat poison had been mixed. All have recovered. This happened at Nicholasville.

Alfred Jackson, a Chicago thief, has tried seven times to commit suicide. Twice he tried to catch pneumonia by sitting in a snowbank, and his last attempt to die was by shooting. He will recover.

Some of the roads in Madison must be in a fearful condition. The Climax says that a horse was pulled out of a mud road by the aid of six negroes, four mules, ropes and poles, after it had been mired for two hours.

The Montgomery grand jury has adjourned until Thursday after returning about forty indictments against prominent business and professional men for gambling. Several saloon-keepers were also indicted. The trial of Pres. Matthews, the negro rapist, was set for Friday.

Every Month

there are thousands of women who nearly suffer death from irregular menses. Sometimes the "period" comes too often—sometimes not often enough—sometimes the flow is too scant, and again it is too profuse. Each symptom shows that Nature needs help, and that there is trouble in the organs concerned. Be careful when in any of the above conditions. Don't take any and every nostrum advertised to cure female troubles.

BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR

is the one safe and sure medicine for irregular or painful menstruation. It cures all the ailments that are caused by irregularity, such as leucorrhoea, falling of the womb, nervousness; pains in the head, back, breasts, shoulders, sides, hips and limbs. By regulating the menses so that they occur every twenty-eighth day, all those aches disappear together. Just before your time comes, get a bottle and see how much good it will do you. Druggists sell it at $1.

Theatrical And Otherwise—Remarks In The Foyer.

Belle Hamilton, of the Wilbur Opera Company, has inherited a fortune by the death of her grandmother.

A Terpsichorean Carnival will be given by Lexington society people for the benefit of the Children's Home.

Maysville's handsome new opera house will be opened on February 9th, 10th and 11th, by performances by local talent.

T. N. Lawson, a Boston millionaire, has paid $6,000 for a fine carnation which has been named for his wife. The blooms are four and one-half inches in diameter and are a beautiful pink.

Edgar Baume, a talented Mr. Sterling actor, has been engaged as leading man for Eugenia Blair. The Company will play an engagement in Mt Sterling this season. Miss Blair will begin a tour in January 30th in a "Lady of Quality," having secured the right to produce the play in certain territory.

The Herald says that a lady who lived near Lexington, finding it impossible to attend the auction sale of Robert Burns Wilson's paintings, stood at her telephone and had the bids on certain pictures repeated to her. She raised the bids and finally bought two pictures which she had admired. Bidding by telephone must be awfully trying on a woman's nerves.

Last week was truly "Cyrano" week in Cincinnati, and Richard Maushoff's fine production of "Cyrano de Bergerac" attracted hundreds of visitors, including a liberal quota of Kentuckians, to Cincinnati to see the famous play. The total receipts at the Grand were nearly $17,000, making it one of the most successful engagements in the theatrical history of the Queen City. The production is a superb one and deserves the success it has achieved. Apropos of the various ways in which the name has been pronounced it may be of interest to those who did not see it to know that "Cyrano de Bergerac" is pronounced as if spelled "Seerano de Bear-jarac," the emphasis being placed on the first syllable in each word.

Jockey Controversy Settled.

A dispatch from Memphis says: "Tommy Burns will ride for John W. Schorr & Son for the next two years at a salary of $3,000 per annum. This was settled at a conference held here to-day, which was attended by all interested parties, viz: E. W. Simms, John W. Schorr, John Burns, Tommy's father; Judge L. P. Tarleton, attorney for Simms; Frank Zimmerman, attorney for Tommy; and C. R. Ellison, Tommy's manager."

All the interested parties declined to make any statements beyond the assertion that matters were amicably settled and that Burns will ride for Schorr & Son, according to the contract he had made with them, which is binding for two years at a salary of $3,000. Of course in the settlement made today Mr. Simms received back the $2,500 he had paid Burns senior, when he secured a contract last fall. It is also stated that Mr. Simms received in addition between $2,000 and $5,000 from Tommy for his release and which enabled him to fulfill the contract he had made with Schorr & Son and thus ends the controversy that has been pending for four months.

Burns and Ellison returned to New Orleans tonight. John Burns and his wife departed for their home in Canada. Judge Tarleton went to Louisville and Mr. Simms left for Helena, Ark.

Insurance Agents Fined.

The Frankfort insurance agents who were indicted recently for entering a combine to fix insurance rates were each fined $250 in the State Fiscal Court at Frankfort, Thursday. The companies are known as the "board companies," and include all those operating under the Kentucky and Tennessee Board of Underwriters.

The case has been watched with interest by the Paris insurance agents who were indicted by the grand jury for entering a combine.

Judge Cantrill refused a new trial in the case or the insurance companies and an appeal will be taken to the Court of Appeals.

A Popular Hotel.

ALWAYS popular, the Palace Hotel, Sixth and Vine street, was easily the most popular hotel in Cincinnati during the G. A. R. encampment. Excellent cuisine, prompt service, and polite employees, and splendid management has made it the best $2 and $2.50 per day hotel in America. Kentuckians always find friends stopping at this hostelry.

A New Fair Company.

HON. C. M. THOMAS has started a movement to organize a new Fair Company to buy the fair grounds and give an old fashioned stock fair. He was circulating a subscription paper yesterday and met with considerable encouragement, getting one-seventh of the necessary amount subscribed. The enterprise is a worthy one and every body should take stock in it. Paris should have a fair by all means.

THE morning train from Cincinnati, yesterday, ran over and killed J. J. Hull, near Morning View. Hull was walking on the track and deliberately threw himself in front of the engine. His body was terribly mangled.

Foul-Smelling Catarrh.

Catarrh is one of the most obstinate diseases, and hence the most difficult to get rid of.

There is but one way to cure it. The disease is in the blood, and all the sprays, washes and inhalant mixtures in the world can have no permanent effect whatever upon it. Swift's Specific cures Catarrh permanently, for it is the only remedy which can reach the disease and force it from the blood.

Mr. B. P. McAllister, of Harrodsburg, Ky., had Catarrh for years. He writes: "I could see no improvement whatever, though I was constantly treated with sprays and washes, and different inhalant remedies—in fact, I could feel that each winter I was worse than the year previous. Finally it was brought to my notice that Catarrh was a blood disease, and after thinking over the matter, I saw it was unreasonable to expect to be cured by remedies which only reached the surface. I then decided to try S. S. S., and after a few bottles were used, I noticed a perceptible improvement. Continuing the remedy, the disease was forced out of my system, and a complete cure was the result. I advise all who have this dreadful disease to abandon their local treatment, which has never done them any good, and take S. S. S., a remedy that can reach the disease and cure it."

To continue the wrong treatment for Catarrh is to continue to suffer. Swift's Specific is a real blood remedy, and cures obstinate, deep-seated diseases, which other remedies have no effect whatever upon. It promptly reaches Catarrh, and never fails to cure even the most aggravated cases.

TENNYSON'S FAITH.

The Problem of the Future Life Had the Dominant Interest.

A reader of the "Life of Tennyson," by his son, will be struck by the fact that no subject interested him so deeply as the problem of the future life. He will also observe that it was always a problem to him, one that he was constantly raising, that would not stay settled. To be sure, he was a believer in immortality, but not a restful believer. He was all the time digging up the roots of his faith to be sure they were alive. The old question would not stay unanswered. The reader of his poetry observes the same thing. He is always on the side of faith, but of a somewhat disturbed faith. He belonged to that "metaphysical society" which invited into its membership believers of all shades, with all shades of unbelief, whose object was to raise and answer doubts about God and the future life. He was the spokesman of the scientific doubt of the age, fluttering over the dovecoats of faith, but hardly settling and resting and nesting therein.

One observes the contrast with this fluttering faith who reads the poems of Milton, with their abiding faith in the future life. This is the spiritual contrast between "In Memoriam" and "Lycidas." In Milton's requiem, even under its paganism form, there is a robust and jubilant faith in God and eternal life. No question enters. The mind and heart are satisfied. The dear friend is beyond all doubt among the saints and choirs above. One regrets that Tennyson's mental structure perhaps could find positiveness and rest on questions of politics or poetry, but must perennially dubitate—to be sure, with the hopeful balance of probability—over questions of faith. "I believe I know," he once said, "the quantity of every word in the English language except scissors," but one seems to detect a tremulousness in his best expression of faith, "I hope to meet my Pilot face to face, when I have crossed the bar."—Independent.

HARNESS REINS.

Made From the Stoutest of Leather. A Word About Hand Holds.

The reins of a set of single harness are each about 13 feet in length, those of a double harness about 15 feet. For business harness reins are made of leather, tanned black; the reins of carriage harness are made of russet colored leather.

Reins require to be very stout, and they are almost always made of steer hide, the leather of which traces are made, these, however, being of more than one thickness. Occasionally lines for light or for cheap harness are made of cowhide, but not often. As a rule the best of leather is used for the reins, even in cheap harness. There can be obtained from the hides of leather suitable for reins strips from seven to nine feet in length, so that reins are always of necessity made in two pieces.

The loops, or hand holds, often seen on the reins of track or road horses are commonly made of lighter leather stitched together and then sometimes stitched to the reins, but more often secured to them in such a manner that they can be shifted on the reins to suit the convenience of the driver. The three loop hold, which is called the Boston hand hold, is commonly used for track driving. The single loop is the one used by most drivers on the road. There are patent hand holds made of metal. The wooden buttons sometimes seen on reins, used as hand holds, are made in pairs, one button of each pair having a stem, with a thread cut on it, which goes through the rein and is screwed into the other button of the pair on the opposite side.—New York Sun.

Sowing Pansy Seed.

During early October is a good time for sowing pansy seed for next spring's supply of plants for bedding out. The reason for fall sowing out of doors is that the plants are not then subjected to the hot, drying influences of the house, which are so likely to bring on red spider and other troubles.

Prepare a bed of very rich, porous loam on a well drained location. Place over it a frame to be filled with forest leaves as a protection to the little plants over winter. After sowing the seed in the bed sift a very light covering of soil over the seed, merely enough to hide them. During the process of germination never allow the bed to dry out, as moisture is essential to perfect germination of any seed.

As severe weather approaches cover the bed with a few inches of litter of some sort, forest leaves being preferable. At the proper time in the spring the seedlings may be picked out of the soil in the seedbed and transferred to the bed in which they are to bloom.—Woman's Home Companion.

One Day at a Time.

It is a blessed secret, says the British Weekly, this of living by the day. Any one can carry his burden, however heavy, till nightfall. Any one can live sweetly, patiently, lovingly, purely, till the sun goes down. And this is all that life ever really means to us—just one little day. Do today's duty. Fight today's temptations, and do not weaken and distract yourself by looking forward to things you cannot see and could not understand if you saw them. God gives us nights to shut down the curtain of darkness on our little days. We cannot see beyond. Short horizons make life easier and give us one of brave, true, holy living.

Worth Discussing.

"Doctor, I don't know what's the matter with me. I can't sleep nights any more."
"Um! Let's see. What is your business?"
"I'm a night watchman."
"Ah, your case is a remarkable one. I must write it up for our Monthly Medical Record."—Chicago News.
